Denver, Colorado.

Dear Dr. Schofield:

The Charles Holbrook Library of the Pacific School of Religion ~~in conjunction with~~ the libraries of the four other seminaries here, namely, The Berkeley Baptist Divinity School, Starr King School for the Ministry, San Francisco Theological Seminary, and the Church Divinity School, is endeavouring to establish small libraries of religious books for ~~the~~ Japanese ministers in the WRA camps. We hope to have about one hundred volumes in each camp library, and intend to rotate these every six months among the centers.

Since there will be ~~about~~ twelve such libraries if is difficult for any small combination of seminaries to supply the adequate number of volumes without interfering with the requisite needs of each individual institution. Therefore we are seeking aid from other seminaries, particularly from those in states having WRA camps. Since Colorado has a center at Lamar we would like to know whether it would be possible, and whether your school would care to provide, either partially or completely, such a collection of books for that camp. If so, we would pay all postage for its movement thereon until returned to you.

Thanking you in advance for any trouble you may take in this regard, and hoping to hear from you in the near future I am

Yours very sincerely,

Stillson Judah, Librarian.

Dr. H. Wernecke, Librarian
Eden Theological Seminary
Webster Groves, Missouri.

I have just received your card, and am very pleased to hear of your kind donation of books to the Japanese ministers and Christian workers in the WRA camps.

Since we have so many collections in the field now duplication is becoming a problem, so that it would perhaps be better to send the collection to our library where we shall then send the bulk to some camp, and use the remainder to fill out other collections. Our aim is to avoid placing books in one camp where, after rotation, they might duplicate volumes in the new collection.

It is highly gratifying to us to see how the different seminaries have responded to this project, and how from such a small beginning three months ago we are now using collections provided by the following schools besides yours and ours: Starr King School for the Ministery; Berkeley Baptist Divinity School; Church Divinity School of the Pacific; San Francisco Theological Seminary; Iliff School of Theology; Chicago Theological Seminary; Union Theological Seminary; Southern Methodist University; Howard University;

Thanking you again for your most welcome donation I am

Dear Mr. Judah:

Replying to your letter concerning the establishment of small libraries of religious books for the Japanese ministers in WRA camps, particularly the one at Lamar, Colo., we will be happy to co-operate in this enterprise. Accordingly, will you give me more complete information concerning the type of books desired, number, disposition, etc.?

Cordially yours,

Dr. Martin Rist, Librarian
The Iliff School of Theology
Denver, Colorado.

Dear Dr. Rist:

In answer to yours of November 9, I wish to express my thanks and appreciation for your offer to co-operate with us on the WRA libraries.

We plan libraries of about one hundred volumes each, and are trying to make each library as representative of all fields of Christian literature as possible. Although most of the works are likely to be of the more popular class we are also adding some books that are more scholarly in approach for those who would choose to read them.

If you could supply such a collection for Lamar it would be a great help, and much appreciated. Then with your permission I will move these books to another center after a limited time, replacing these with another library from one of the other camps. In this way each camp will at all times have a rounded collection of books which will be completely changed every few months. Postage and the entire responsibility of shifting these books about from camp to camp I will consider my responsibility from the time they arrive at Lamar until they are returned to your library again.

I suggest, however, that in most cases you send books which are duplicates, or are not of irreplacable value, because it is possible that some may be pretty badly worn out or even lost during the "duration." Also, please be sure that each book has some mark of ownership on it.

If this is entirely satisfactory, when you send the books, I would appreciate it very much if you could send me a list of the authors and titles. This would not only serve as a check-list, but would be very useful to me in avoiding duplication when the libraries are rotated.

The minister at Lamar to whom you would send the books is Rev. Lester E. Suzuki (Methodist) whose address is 7K-7E, Amache Branch, Lamar, Colorado. Through him I have been serving 8 ministers so far, and he has proved to be quite reliable.

Thanking you again for your co-operation I am

Yours very sincerely,

We were very glad to cooperate in setting up the camp libraries by getting ready a collection of books. As you are anxious to h ve them as soon as possible, I have a shipment ready to go out either today or tomorrow. This collection does not contain a hundred volumes, but we shall be glad to add to it very soon.

I am enclosing a list of the books which we are sending to the camp. I shall also send a list to the Rev. Paul Nagano, as well as notifying him that the books are on the way.

If we can do any more to help. pease let us know.

Dear Miss Ostrander:

I wish to thank you for your offer to cooperate with us in setting up small WRA libraries.

Our faculty is making out lists of books at the present time. These will, however be used only as a guide in the selection of new books to be purchased for the camps, when and if funds are available. I will enclose a list of duplicate copies from our library which we are sending to one camp. As you will observe they consist of older materials, but are such as to be still interesting and valuable in the main.

It is our aim to get the books to the camps just as soon as possible. Our first shipment will be on this coming week-end.

We shall be very grateful, if you can supply one of the large camps at Poston, Arizona. Our representative there to whom you will sendd the books is Rev. Paul Nagano, 327-13-B, Poston, Arizona. I shall be pleased to inform him of your desire to help them out.

When the collection is sent will you please send us a check list?

I believe there is little need to warn you that in selecting books for this purpose to choose those which are either duplicates or are replacable, although I am sure that they will be well cared for.

Thanking you again for your splendid cooperation I am

Yours very sincerely,

Librarian.

Dear Miss Ostrander:

I wish to thank you for your offer to cooperate with us in setting up small WRA libraries.

Unfortunately at this time I do not have any sample lists of books which we propose to have in these camps except that given by the San Francisco Theological Seminary, which seems to be too denominational to be representative. However, our professors are making out such lists at the present time, and I will send you copies of all lists as soon as I am able.

These lists, of course, are supposed to be more or less ideal, and no one camp library will contain all of these books. If funds are forthcoming as is hoped, with which to purchase books for these centers, we will then be able to come closer to our requirements. At the present time, however, we have been combing out duplicates in our library in all fields of Christian literature, and I am enclosing a list of these showing what kind of books we are actually sending, ~~at the present time~~.

It is our aim to get the books together and send them to the camps just as soon as possible. Our first shipment will be this coming week-end.

We would be very grateful if you could supply one of the large camps at Poston, Arizona. Our representative there to whom you will send the books is Rev. Paul Nagano, 327-13-B, Poston, Arizona. I shall be pleased to inform him of your desire to help them out.

I believe there is little need to warn you that in selecting books for this purpose to choose those which are either duplicates or are replacable, since some books may receive much wear, and some may even be lost.

Dear Miss Ostrander:

I wish to thank you for your offer to cooperate with us in setting up small WRA libraries.

Unfortunately at this time I do not have any sample lists of books which we propose to have in these camps except that given by the Presbyterians from San Francisco Theological Seminary, which is so radically different from any we would propose that I do not feel it is at all representative. However, our professors are making out such lists at the present time, and I will send you copies of all lists as soon as I am able.

These lists of course are supposed to more or less ideal, and no library will contain all of these books. If funds are forthcoming as we hope we will try to then meet these requirements as closely as possible. At the present time, however, we have been combing out duplicates in our library in all fields of Christian literature, and I am enclosing a list of these showing what kind of books we are actually sending at the present time.

It is our aim to gather the books and send them to the camps just as soon as possible. Our first shipment will be this coming week end.

I would take over the camps at Poston, Arizona.
In each camp there is someone who has been contacted and has accepted the responsibility of being a librarian, and if satisfactory
I would be very grateful if you could supply one of the large camps at Poston, Arizona. Our representative there is Rev. Paul Nagano, 327-13-B, Poston, Arizona. I shall inform him of your desire to help them out.

I believe there is little need to warn you that in selecting books for this camp to choose books which are either duplicates or are not irreplacable, since some books will perhaps receive much wear, and then there is always the possibility of a book being lost,

Thanking

I have conferred with our Librarian and it does not seem to us that it is feasible for us to consider a loan from our library. Any books that would be significant for the purposes that you have in mind are just the books we need here for our own work. And the matter of transportation and responsibility would seem to us to be more than you should be expected to assme.

We might be able to send you as a gift for use in this connection as you see fit some books which have value. From time to time we have brought into us the libraries of deceased ministers. And there is often a residue of first rate stuff even after we have absorbed what we want for our own shelves.

If this would suit you, I will see if we cannot arrange to ship out a box or two which you can then combine with such other volumes as you may have available.

The Charles Holbrook Library of the Pacific School of Religion, aided by the libraries of four other seminaries here, namely, the Berkeley Baptist Divinity School, Starr King School for the Ministry, San Francisco Theological Seminary, and the Church Divinity School, is endeavouring to establish small libraries of religious books for Japanese ministers in the WRA camps. We hope to have about a hundred volumes in each camp library, and intend to rotate these every few months among the several centers.

Since there will be twelve or more libraries to be formed it is difficult for any small combination of seminaries to supply the adequate number of fairly standard books without interfering with the requisite needs of each individual institution. For this reason we are seeking the aid of other seminaries, and would like to know whether your library could, and would care to help out by supplying a camp with such a collection, either partial or complete. If so, we would take the responsibility for the collection and bear the expense of its movements from the time it arrives at its first destination until it is returned to you.

Thanking you in advance for any trouble you may take in this regard, and hoping to hear from you in the near future I am

My dear Mr. Judah:

Dr. Van Dusen referred to me your letter soliciting books for Japanese ministers in Camp.

We have thousands upon thousands of older books which are duplicates and could be sent to you. We have, however, very few modern and up-to-date religious books to dispose of. If I could know more specifically just what you might want we might be able to help a little. Please give me a few titles of such books as you think would be suitable.

As we are at such a distance from the west coast shipment will be a considerable item of expense, but we are willing to help insofar as we can despite this distance.

~~I wi~~ I wish to thank you indeed for offering a collection of books to a WRA camp.

These books will be rotated from camp to camp every three or six months for the "duration" of the camps. If for any reason one or more of these books should be required for use at your seminary it would be possible to have these withdrawn and returned to you.

As soon as your collection is completed will you please send it to the Rev. S. Tanabe, 2816-C, Tule Lake Project, Newell, California. I shall write Mr. Tanabe today, and have him prepared to receive your collection. If you will inform me as to the amount of postage, I shall be very glad to reimburse you.

When the collection is sent, please send a check-list of the books included to Mr. Tanabe, and one to me. This will greatly facilitate his caring for the books, and will be of importance to me in preventing unnecessary duplication when adding to the libraries.

I wish to thank you once again for your cooperation in this enterprize and remain

We are now gathering a collection of books similar to those other seminary libraries have lent. There may not be a hundred, but we can spare at least fifty very useful modern books.

Shall we send them to you or direct to the first camp? If to camp, please give me the address and any further instruction. Also, we would like to know how long the books will be gone.

My dear Dr. Markley:

I wish to thank you for the interest you have shown in helping to supply books to the Japanese ministers and church workers in the WRA camps.

As a possible guide in regard to the type of books we are sending I am enclosing a list of the books which Chicago Theological Seminary has sent to one camp, and also a partial collection sent from our library. You will notice that most of the books which we are sending are not current, but are still books which may have some interest. We have tried as far as possible to include some titles in all the various fields of religious literature

If you will be able to send out such a collection, I should be very much obliged to have you supply one of the camps at Denson, Arkansas. I have been corresponding with the minister there who is acting as our library representative, and he seems to be quite reliable, and sufficiently capable of caring for the books. Although a book or so might be lost I believe all of our representatives are pretty careful. We have been supplying the camps with current religious materials since their beginning, and as yet have lost not one single volume.

Hoping that I may hear from you again in the near future, and thanking you for the trouble you have taken I remain

Dear Dr. Rist:

I have just received your letter of March 16th, and wish to thank you very sincerely for the books which you have sent to the camp at Lamar.

In regard to the type of books most needed I believe that is a question in which you and I and even the Japanese themeselves would differ. I am enclosing a list of books which is a partial list of books sent out from our library. I have included some recent volumes, although most of the books are of older material, but I believe and at least hope they will be interesting to the majority of Japanese ministers. I have sent out several hundred books on request to the ministers in the various camps on a two weeks loan and I find that some are interested in only current books, and some in only older books, some want scholarly books, and some want popular editions. It was our policy here to get collections of interesting and fairly sound works in all the camps first, then to get funds with which we might purchase some of the best current books, and also the most fundamentally necessary books. In order to do the selecting of the latter from as broad a view point as possible I have had the professors of the different denominational seminaries who are cooperating with us here on the coast make out short bibliographies of what they considered the most important books in each of their respective fields. It was very interesting to me to note that at least in one field, that of New Testament, the bibliographiss of two seminaries did not coincide in a single selection. Therefore you can readily see the problems of book selection. With these funds, however, I am having to select first the books which are chosen by more than one school, and then filling in with representative books from the bibliographies which do not conincide, but represent perhaps a certain denominational slant. These books are then divided and sent to the various camps, the placement of each individual book being determined by the number and quality of books in that particular field already in the collection in the camp to which it is sent. By rotating the collections from camp to camp the Japanese minister would ideally, if the "duration" lasted long enough, receive for his use a large selection of books which are regarded as the most essential from several view points.

March 17, 1943.

I am enclosing also as a sample the bibliographies of New Testament and Old Testament which have been made by these respective departments at our seminary.

Hoping that this letter may give you a better idea of our present policy and aims, and thanking you again for your cooperation in this project I remain

Yours very sincerely,

Dear Dr. Nelson:

Your kind offer to send about twenty-five volumes for the Japanese ministers in WRA camps is most welcome and indeed greatly appreciated.

Although the main WRA camps have already their collections, or will very soon, we are still in great need of suitable books to increase their size & enlarge the scope. Therefore, it would be better to send the collection here so that it may be divided and sent to various camps where the particular books are needed.

Since several seminaries are considering their collections as gifts to the camps rather than loans I am now asking each university and seminary the status of ~~their~~ its books. If the books are lent they will be returned, but if contributed they will remain with the Japanese. So, when you send the books, please make this clear.

It is highly gratifying to me to see how this project has grown since its inception several months ago. You may be interested to know that besides your school and ours the following are those which are contributing books to this cause: Starr King School for the Ministry, Berkeley Baptist Divinity School, Church Divinity School of the Pacific, San Francisco Theological Seminary, Iliff Theological Seminary, Chicago Theological Seminary, Union Theological Seminary, Eden Theological Seminary, and Howard University.

Dear Dr. Seneker:

Since I have not heard from you since my last letter to you of January 28th I have wondered concerning your final decision as to supplying books from your library for a Japanese WRA camp.

In the interim I have sent small collections to both of the camps in Arkansas, but we are yet far from our aim of about two hundred volumes for each library, and any duplicate volumes which you might be able to spare from your library for one of these camp libraries would be very greatly appreciated.

If you are able to send a small collection, would you please send me a check-list of the books, since we have recently raised some sizeable funds with which to purchase a few basic and current books for the camps? Books will be chosen for each library in view of what it already has, and our aim will be to make each library have representative books in each field of Christian literature, and to keep down duplication both within each individual collection, and also with the collections which will follow in the rotation process.

Dear Dr. Seneker:

I was most happy to hear from you yesterday in reply to my letter regarding religious collections for the Japanese ministers and church workers in the WRA camps. I shall endeavour to answer the several questi ns which you have raised. First, we do have a list of suggested titles and fields of study to be covered, but it consists in the main of books too essential to each individual seminary to be used as a yard-stick for books to be lent, but rather is it to be used as a guide to purchasing new books and filling out the collections from funds which we hope to have raised for this ur ose. In lieu of this I am enclosing two sample bibliographies, one from Chicago Theological Seminary, and the other from our own seminary, which I regard as representative. You will notice that very few afethe titles are current, but we feel that these books will still give interesting reading, and are fairly reliable.in most cases. Duplication of books in the two lists is almost nil, but in cases where duplication will occur after the first roation, we are trying to move these books to other camps.

Secondly, your contemplation of sending books to a camp in Arkansas fits very well into our plans. I hope that you have chosen the Jerome center, because I seem to have a trustworthy representative there, to whom I have been sending books, and with whom I have been corresponding. Although our plans include the other camp at Rohwer, A Arkansas, I have had some trouble getting a responsive representative ther there, and until I feel fairly sure of the new man, I am reluctant to send a collection. Therefore, if it would fit in with your plans I should be very pleased if you could send a collection to the Rev. H. Hashimoto, 44-04-B, Jerome Relocation Center, Denson, Arkansas. If you do see fit to send such a collection would you let me know beforehand inorder that I may write the Rev. Hashimoto in this regard, and secondly, send a check-list of the books included in the collection to our representative, and a carbon copy to me.

Your interest in this project is very gratifying, and I hope that this letter may serve to answer your questions.

Dear Sir:

Please accept our thanks for your recent letter to Dean Eugene B. Hawk, concerning books for "Japanese ministers in the WRA camps," but we are not clear on several points as to precisely what is needed.

We want to have our fair share in this sort of work and to that end we have considered several questions in connection with your proposal. First, do you have a list of suggested titles or fields of study to be covered? Since you suggest twelve or more circulating libraries obviously you must have in mind a varied selection in order that their rotation may be of most value.

Again, we are contemplating sending books to a nearer Japanese Resettlement Camp in Arkansas and wonder if this would be in line with your own plans and wishes; that is, if we do that would that be our share? Or do you have that camp on your proposed list? As you suggest we need to meet our own requisite needs here on the campus.

However, we wish to make it clear that we are in hearty accord with the sort of thing which you suggest, and await your reply and further suggestions in the hope that we can be of assistance in this most worthy enterprise.

Dear Dr. Rist:

I have just learned from Mr. Suzuki at the Lamar relocation camp that through a misunderstanding the books, lent by you for the circulating camp collections, have been returned to you. He writes that six were lost. I am very sorry about this. Perhaps they should be replaced from funds now in hand for the purchase of new books.

Mr. Suzuki received instructions last October to send the loan collection to Rev. Sohei Kowta, 12-3-B, Unit 1, Poston, Arizona. As Mr. Kowta was instructed to forward his collection to another camp, this leaves Poston without religious books. Could I ask you to send the collection to Poston? We would, of course, bear all expense. I realize that this is asking a good deal of you but it seems to be the only solution.

Due to the many changes in personnel at the camps there has been a good deal of confusion about the handling of these collections but I hope to have it all straightened out in the near future.

Dear Mr. Rist:

I have taken over Mr. Judah's work for the duration, and am trying to unravel some of the mysteries locked up in the correspondence relating to the Japanese camp religious libraries.

Would you drop me a card and tell me whether you did mail a collection of books (source-Iliff) to Rev. Sohei Kowta, 12-3-A, Unit 1, Poston, Arizona? It is very difficult to get satisfactory answers from those in charge at the camps. I am afraid the system is too complicated for their comprehension. I might add, not theirs only. I think a word from you would clarify this matter, and I shall appreciate it very much.

Very sincerely yours,

Dorothy Felter, Librarian

Dear Mr. Rist:

I have taken over Mr. Judah's work for the duration, and am puzzling over the Japanese libraies correspondence 3/26/44.

Dear Miss Felter:

The books are on their way to Poston. I regret the delay, but with my manifold duties and very limited assistance it was difficult to attend to this matter. I plan to sort out additional books to send later on.

Cordially yours,

Martin Rist

Miss S. M. Foster,
Reference Librarian
Union Theological Seminary Library
New York City

Dear Miss Foster:

I have received a letter regarding the three titles which you wished forwarded to you from the Japanese camp library. The writer says: "I wonder if you can't advise them to buy those two lost books and forward the invoice directly to us." He does not say which two, nor does he say that he found and sent you the third.

I am writing to him to discover what he wants done with regard to each title you requested.

Very truly yours,

Dorothy Felter, Librarian

Dear Miss Foster:

I have just taken over Mr. Judah's duties for the duration. I hope that this project of lending libraries can be kept under control, and I am doing everything possible with the limited time at my disposal.

I have just written to Minidoka asking them to return the titles you requested, namely: You and ten commandments and Jesus and his Bible.

Very sincerely yours,

Dear Mr. Sudah.

I'm sorry to bother you again about "relocation books" but Cameron's You and the Ten Commandments about which we wrote you in February has not yet been returned. We'd appreciate further word about it.

We also need another book sent you last year. It is "Jesus und His Bible" by Gilbert. Perhaps this will be forthcoming?

Sincerely yours,

S. M. Foster,

Reference Librarian.

Dear Miss Felter,

Thank you for your note and promise of help. Now, sad to say, we need another book. This time it is "Preaching the Gospel" by Robbins. Yours—prises me that so many of the books have been asked for but it goes to show that someone is bound to want whatever is unavailable.

Dear Mr. Judah,

In answering please acknowledge receipt of books sent to Mr. Power

One of the books we sent you for the use of the Japanese internees is very much needed here. Do you suppose it could be found and returned? It is

" you and the Ten Commandments"
by Cameron.

We shall be grateful for your help.

Very truly yours,

S. M. Foster,

Dear Miss Foster:

I have written to the Relocation Camp which now has the book collection from Union and asked that Cameron, You and the Ten Commandments, be forwarded to you immediately. I hope there will be no delay.

The three books borrowed for Professor Wornom on Inter-Seminary Loan have arrived. Herewith 9¢ in stamps to cover postage.

Yours sincerely,

Dear Mr. Rist:

I am sending by freight a box containing books loaned by your library for use in the W.R.A. camps. Not all the titles on the list in my possession were returned. It is possible that they became confused with those in another collection, and that they will be returned at a later date.

I have received messages of appreciation from time to time from those in the camps who made use of the books, and I believe that the collections were of material help in keeping up morale.

May I express our sincere thanks for your cooperation, and suggest that if there are any books missing which you are eager to locate that you write to me about them.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Miss Ostrander:

May I express our sincere thanks for the use of your books for the W.R.A. camps. They have been returned to me with the exception of three titles, and I am forwarding them to you by freight and parcels post. The missing titles are: Eastman, Fred- Men of power, vol. 1; Heard, Gerald- The creed of Christ; New plays for women and girls.

I have received messages of appreciation from time to time from those in the camps who made use of the books, and I believe that the collections were of material help in keeping up morale.

My dear Miss Burt:

The box of our books which were sent by freight arrived this week and in good condition.

According to our check all of the books ~~except~~ sex have been returned to us. I think the percentage is very good considering that the books were gone for three years and apparently used in three different camps.

However I am listing the books just in case they ever turn up at your library.

Brunner, Emil. Our Faith
Eastman, Fred. Men of Power, v.1
Elliott & Elliott. Solving Personal Problems.
Fosdick, H.E. Living Under Tension
Jones, R.M. Pathways to the Reality of God
New Plays for Women and Girls.

Thanking you for your trouble in returning the books to us, I am

Dear Mrs. Vetter:

Today one package of books arrived from the shipment that is being returned from Poston. I am sure the others will arrive in due season. Those sent by freight will probably take some time.

I surely was happy to know where they were. We had received word that they had been sent from Poston to another camp, and in turn from there to another one in Colorado. I didn't dream that they would be sent to you.

We were glad to help out by loaning our books, and it is nice to know that they were appreciated.

I wish to thank you for your part in getting them back to us.

Dear Miss Ostrander:

I have just received you letter and the supplementary list of books which you have sent to the camp at Poston. If all seminaries and universities with which I have dealt during the past few months would cooperate and take the real genuine interest, backed up by action, that you have my problems would be much lighter. Let me again commend you on your excellent work in behalf of the Japanese Christians and remain

Dear Mr. Judah:

I am enclosing a supplementary list of books which we have just sent to the Relocation Center at Poston. We have received several letters from them in which they express their appreciation for the use of the books. We asked them for their special needs now that they had had the collection for sometime, and we hope to send a few more that will meet these needs.

Very truly yours,
